Dear Mr. Marchessault:

I am writing on behalf of our client, Allen Wayside Furniture Inc., in response to a request for information sent to it by Merrill S. Hohman dated October 26, 1987.

Allen Wayside Furniture Inc. is a New Hampshire Corporation with a principal place of business at 3611 Lafayette Road, Portsmouth, New Hampshire, 03801. Its sole function is the retail sale of consumer furniture.

The corporation was formed in the late 1960's primarily by Alan Abrams. Until approximately two years ago, Mr. Abrams and his wife Sylvia were the sole stockholders of the corporation. Mr. Abrams ran the business with the part-time assistance of his wife and, for several years prior to his retirement, the full time assistance of their three children. Approximately two years ago, the Abrams conveyed their interest in the corporation to their three children by an installment sale.

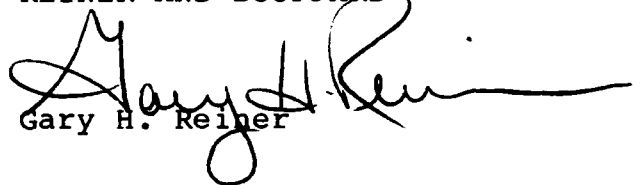

None of the children have any information regarding the Coakley Landfill which was the subject matter of Mr. Hohman's information request.

This past summer Mr. Abrams suffered a stroke and, as a result, is not able to provide us with any information that may be helpful. We do believe that nothing other than cardboard boxes would have been taken from Allen Wayside Furniture, Inc. to the Coakley Landfill.
